ANSWER KEY

QP CODE: 25900913

MAHATMA GANDHI UNIVERSITY, KOTTAYAM

MGU-UGP (HONOURS) REGULAR /IMPROVEMENT/ REAPPEARANCE EXAMINATION NOVEMBER 2025

FIRST SEMESTER

Discipline Specific Core Course (DSC) - MG1DSCPOL100, MG1DSCPJM100 - EVERYDAY POLITICS

(2024 ADMISION ONWARDS)

PART A

1. Aristotle

2. 1648

3. Separation of power/power-sharing/federalism

4. Distributive Justice

5. Civic or Participatory Citizenship/ Republican Citizenship

6. John Locke

7. World Health Organization (WHO)

8. Facebook/Twitter

9. Ending qualified immunity for police officers/independent civilian review boards for police oversight/divestment

10. Rachel Carson

PART B

11.Negotiation in politics is a process where different actors communicate and compromise to reach mutually acceptable decisions- resolve conflicts- create agreements that balance competing interests.

12. Political institutions reflect core values -by shaping laws, norms, and procedures- embody ideals like democracy, equality, justice, and accountability- these principles guide governance, decision-making, and the behaviour of political actors.

13. State maintains law and order through policing, judicial enforcement, regulatory mechanisms, policy implementation-ensuring public safety- preventing crime- resolving disputes- upholding legal norms across society.

14. Law defines rights and duties-resolves conflicts, maintains social order- protects citizens-regulates institutions- supports justice by providing rules and procedures- mechanisms for fair governance and societal functioning.

15. A government reflects the will of the state- by implementing laws, policies, and decisions based on constitutional principles, public mandates, and democratic processes- ensuring that state authority aligns with collective interests.

16. Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change-UN body assesses scientific research on climate change- provides evidence-based reports- evaluates risks- informs global policy-making- summarizing trends, impacts, and mitigation strategies for governments worldwide.

17. Feminist movements aim to challenge gender inequality- ensure women's rights-promote bodily autonomy- expand political and economic participation-question patriarchal norms-advocate for social justice and equal opportunities.

18. Millions of enslaved Africans and their descendants worked in brutal conditions, but their unpaid labour built much of the economic foundation of early America- Slavery contributed to early America's wealth through forced labour in plantations- generating profits- facilitating trade- building industries- creating economic foundations that supported national growth and expansion.

19. Standing protest or Nilppusamaram was led by Adivasi Gothra Maha Sabha (AGMS) in the year 2014-struggles in front of the Kerala Secretariat- the main demand of the Adivasis was five acres land each to all landless tribal families in the state- government faced criticism from activists and observers- Kerala government responded through dialogue- administrative interventions and welfare assurances- state government assured strong action to allocate the land -requisite land will be also distributed to the tribes people, who are residing in the farms owned by the state forest department-appropriate action would be initiated against the encroachers, who are carrying out farming in tribal lands.

20. Gender roles are maintained through daily practices like socialization- division of labour-cultural norms- media portrayals-expectations in families and institutions- reinforcing ideas about appropriate behaviour for men and women- -what men and women “should” do- everyday behaviours, expectations, and socialization.

PART C

21. Democratic governance is based on several principles -popular sovereignty- political equality- rule of law- accountability- transparency- participation- protection of rights- periodic elections-these principles ensure that power is exercised responsibly and reflects the will and interests of citizens.

22. Constitutional democracy operates through a constitution that limits power, protects rights, ensures separation of powers, and upholds rule of law- significance lies in preventing authoritarianism- safeguarding freedoms- promoting accountability-creating stable, predictable governance grounded in democratic values and legal authority.

23. Equitable vaccine distribution during COVID-19 was crucial to prevent global health disparities- reduce mortality-control transmission- protect vulnerable populations- ensured fairness, strengthened international solidarity, and enabled a coordinated response, recognizing that unequal access would prolong the pandemic and worsen socio-economic inequalities- WHO-led initiative supporting vaccines, diagnostics, and treatments-COVAX-global partnership-created to supply vaccines to low- and middle-income countries.

24. Viral spread of #MeToo in 2017 began after allegations against Harvey Weinstein surfaced- leading actress Alyssa Milano to share the hashtag on social media- millions of women worldwide used it to expose sexual harassment and assault- transforming it into a global movement demanding accountability and systemic change- #MeToo exposed widespread sexual harassment- empowered survivors to speak out- pressured institutions to act- increased accountability- sparked global conversations on gender violence.