25900959

Answer Key – Sociology (MG1DSCSOC100)

MAHATMA GANDHI UNIVERSITY, KOTTAYAM

MGU-UGP (HONOURS) REGULAR/IMPROVEMENT/REAPPEARANCE EXAMINATION NOVEMBER 2025

FIRST SEMESTER

Discipline Specific Core Course (DSC) - MG1DSCSOC100 - INVITATION TO SOCIOLOGY

(2024 ADMISSION ONWARDS)

Duration: 1 Hour 30 Minutes Maximum Marks: 50

Part A

1. By providing evidence-based recommendations to improve health services and ensure wider access. [U] / [CO1]
2. John Locke [U] / [CO2]
3. Dual consciousness [U] / [CO1, CO3]
4. Emotional support. [An] / [CO4]
5. Connecting individual behaviour to broader social contexts. [U] / [CO1]

Part B

6. Professional sociology focuses on generating academic knowledge through systematic research and theory. It emphasizes objectivity, scientific methods, and scholarly publication. [K] / [CO1]

7. The sociological imagination helps individuals link personal troubles like unemployment and mental health to wider social forces. It reveals how economic change, social inequality, and policy affect individual experiences. [K] / [CO1]

8. The French Revolution brought changes such as the end of feudal privileges, rise of democracy, promotion of equality, and growth of nationalism. [U] / [CO2]

9. The Scientific Revolution led to the growth of rational thinking, development of modern science, technological innovations, and decline of religious dominance in knowledge. [An] / [CO2]

10. Society evolves like an organism through stages of growth and differentiation. Each part becomes specialized while contributing to the whole.(Organic Analogy) [U] / [CO3]

11. Power is the ability to impose one's will, even against resistance. Authority is legitimate power accepted by people as rightful. [U] / [CO3]
12. Functionalism views society as a system of interrelated parts. Each institution performs functions necessary for social stability. [K] / [CO4]

Part C

13. Feminism views gender roles as products of power inequality and patriarchy that disadvantage women. Symbolic interactionism focuses on how gender roles are created and maintained through everyday interactions and meanings. While feminism seeks structural change, interactionism highlights micro-level social behavior. [U] / [CO4]

14. A case study of women's movements against dowry in India shows how feminist critiques exposed patriarchal control and domestic violence. This resulted in legal reforms like the Dowry Prohibition Act. It also increased awareness and women's resistance to exploitation. [A] / [CO4]

15. The Theory of Hierarchy of Sciences was proposed by Auguste Comte. It arranges sciences from simple to complex as mathematics, astronomy, physics, chemistry, biology, and sociology. Sociology is considered the most complex and depends on the previous sciences. [A] / [CO3]

16. Harriet Martineau used empirical observation and moral analysis to study society. She emphasized systematic data collection and unbiased interpretation. Her work focused on inequalities, especially related to women and marginalized groups. [K] / [CO3]

17. The Industrial Revolution led to the emergence of capitalist and working-class divisions. It transformed agrarian societies into industrial ones and intensified social inequality. Urbanization and factory systems strengthened class consciousness. [An] / [CO2]
18. Zygmunt Bauman shaped modern sociology through his idea of 'liquid modernity'. He emphasized uncertainty, consumerism, and the instability of social identities. His work connected everyday life with large-scale global changes. [U] / [CO1]

19. Public sociology applies sociological knowledge to address real social problems. It supports public debates, policy-making, and social awareness. It bridges the gap between academic sociology and community life. [U] / [CO1]

Part D

20. André Béteille explains that Indian society experiences tension between tradition and modernity as old customs coexist with new values. Changes in marriage include rising inter-caste unions and late marriages. Families are shifting from joint to nuclear forms. Women's roles are expanding through education and employment. [U] / [CO1]

21. Marx's theory of alienation explains how workers feel disconnected from their labour, product, and self under capitalism. In corporate India, long working hours, job insecurity, and profit-driven work often reduce worker satisfaction. Thus, alienation is clearly visible in modern corporate life. [A] / [ CO3]

25900959