ANSWER KEY
QP CODE:25901756

MAHATMA GANDHI UNIVERSITY, KOTTAYAM
MGU-UGP (HONOURS) REGULAR/IMPROVEMENT/REAPPEARANCE EXAMINATION APRIL 2026
SECOND SEMESTER
Discipline Specific Core Course (DSC) - MG2DSCPOL100, MG2DSCPJM100 - INTRODUCTION TO INDIAN CONSTITUTION
(2024 ADMISSION ONWARDS)

PART A

1. 9 December 1946
2. Prohibition of child labour in hazardous industries/ ban on human trafficking/ban on bonded labour.
3. Fundamental Rights are justiciable/ enforceable by courts/ / Directive Principles are non-justiciable/ not enforceable by courts/ guidelines for the government.
4. Non-justiciable
5. Rajya Sabha
6. Most bills in Parliament are introduced by Ministers.
7. Five years
8. Chief Justice of India
9. Article 131
10. Judicial overreach into the functions of the legislature and executive.

PART B

11. Major British constitutional laws influencing the Indian Constitution include the Regulating Act 1773 - Pitt's India Act 1784 - Charter Acts - Government of India Acts introduced administrative and legislative reforms – include Government of India Act,1909- Government of India Act,1919-Government of India Act 1935- greatly influenced federal structure provincial autonomy and judiciary in India.
12. Constitution reflects socio-political conditions through its laws principles and institutional framework - incorporates historical experiences- social diversity- economic goals and political aspirations of people - provisions for equality justice and welfare address social inequalities - adapts governance according to cultural values democratic ideals and national objectives.

13. Indian Constitution does not require complete revision because it is flexible and adaptable through amendments - has successfully guided democratic governance and protected rights for decades - some provisions may need reforms according to changing conditions - preserving its core values ensures stability unity and constitutional continuity [students should evaluate-key points are indicative in nature].
14. Preamble is considered the key to understanding the Constitution -expresses its philosophy objectives and guiding principles - reflects ideals of justice liberty equality and fraternity - explains nature of Indian state as sovereign socialist secular democratic republic - helps courts interpret constitutional provisions and legislative intentions.
15. Preamble reflects aspirations of Indian people- through commitment to justice liberty equality and fraternity - represents goals of social economic and political democracy after independence - ensures dignity unity and integrity of nation - embodies dreams of a fair inclusive and democratic society for all citizens.
16. Governor's role varies according to political and administrative conditions in different states and union territories- - acts as constitutional head and representative of the President - may exercise discretionary powers during political instability or coalition governments - responsibilities differ in tribal areas northeastern states and during constitutional emergencies.
17. Public Accounts Committee examines government expenditure and ensures financial accountability in administration - checks misuse of public funds and reviews reports of Comptroller and Auditor General - opposition members contribute by critically examining policies and spending practices - chairman of committee is usually chosen from opposition party.
18. Amendment process in law making- involves proposing changes to a bill during parliamentary discussions - amendments may be introduced by ministers or members of Parliament - debated and voted upon in both Houses before final approval - ensures laws remain relevant effective and consistent with constitutional principles.
19. Amendment related to election of President requires approval from at least half of state legislatures under Article 368 - such provisions affect federal structure and relationship between Union and states - Parliament alone cannot amend these provisions - special majority and state ratification are constitutionally necessary.
20. Subordinate courts handle civil criminal and local disputes at district and lower levels - reduce burden on High Courts and Supreme Court by resolving majority of cases efficiently - provide easier and quicker access to justice for citizens - higher courts mainly hear appeals constitutional and significant legal matters.

PART C

21. Government of India Act 1909-also known as Morley Minto Reforms introduced limited constitutional reforms in British India - increased size of legislative councils at central and provincial levels and allowed indirect election of members - introduced separate electorates for Muslims- encouraged communal representation - permitted Indians to join executive councils for the first time - aimed to involve Indians in administration while maintaining British control over governance.
22. Directive Principles of State Policy are classified into socialist Gandhian and liberal intellectual principles - socialist principles promote welfare state equal justice and reduction of inequalities in society - Gandhian principles encourage village panchayats cottage industries and upliftment of weaker sections - liberal principles emphasize uniform civil code environmental protection and international peace - objective is to guide government in establishing social economic and political democracy in India.
23. Prime Minister plays central role in policy making as head of government and leader of Council of Ministers - guides formulation and implementation of national policies on economy defence foreign affairs and welfare - coordinates activities of ministries and influences legislative agenda in Parliament - chairs important committees and advises President on major decisions - leadership political support and administrative control make Prime Minister highly influential in governance and decision making.
24. Independent and impartial judiciary ensures fair justice without interference from executive or legislature - judges are provided security of tenure fixed salaries and protection from arbitrary removal - judiciary has power of judicial review to safeguard Constitution and fundamental rights -power of contempt of court- courts function according to rule of law equality and natural justice principles - impartial judiciary strengthens democracy protects citizens liberties and maintains public confidence in legal system.