25901764 MAHATMA GANDHI UNIVERSITY, KOTTAYAM

MGU-UGP (HONOURS) Regular/IMPROVEMENT/REAPPERANCE EXAMINATION APRIL 2026

SECOND SEMESTER

Discipline Specific Core Course (DSC)-

MG2MDCPSY101 – PSYCHOLOGY AS A PROFESSION

(2024 ADMISSION ONWARDS)

Duration: 2 Hours Maximum Marks: 70

Part A Multiple Choice Questions

Multiple Choice Question- Choose the most appropriate answer. Answer all questions. Each question carries 1 marks

1. Who among the following psychologists challenged functionalist viewpoint, with his own "science of behaviour" or behaviorism? [U]/ [CO1]
   b). J.B. Watson
2. The study of the relation between brain, behaviour and immune system is known as? [K]/ [CO2]
   c). Psychoneuroimmunology
3. What is the main focus of a bio-psychologist? [U]/ [CO3]
   b). Understanding how the brain and neurotransmitters affect thoughts, feelings, and behaviors
4. Aristotle's idea that the mind and body work together laid the foundation for which modern psychological perspective? [U]/ [CO1]
   d). Biopsychology
5. EMOTICOM is a..... [U]/ [CO2]
   b). Neuropsychological test
6. The pseudo psychology that claims planetary positions influence personality and behavior. [K]/ [CO1]
   d). Astrology
7. Which theorist is associated with the concept of "operant conditioning"?[U]/ [CO2]
   c). B.F. Skinner
8. Ethical guidelines help professionals by: [U]/ [CO1]
   a). Providing a framework for making fair and responsible decisions
9. According to Descartes, Pineal gland is the: [K]/ [CO1]
   a). Seat of the soul5
10. ..... is a multidisciplinary field on psychological, social, and behavioral aspects of cancer journey. [K]/ [CO2]
    d). Psycho oncology
11. The Question 'What is the nature of this behaviour' is related to which goal of psychology? [An]/ [CO1]
    a). Describing behavior
12. Which of the following is a method of cognitive Psychology? [U]/ [CO2]

d). All of the above

13. Which of the following best describes reciprocal determinism? [K]/ [CO1]
    b). Personality and behavior are shaped by an interaction of individual factors, behavior, and environment
14. What type of approach do psychologists strive to take when working with individuals, families, and communities? [An]/ [CO3]
    b). Strength-based approach that builds resilience and decreases trauma
15. Which kind of Professional help a manager to reduce absenteeism of an employee to work? [An]/ [CO2]
    d). Organisational Psychologist
16. Which famous psychologist introduced the concept of the collective unconscious? [K]/ [CO1]
    b). Carl Jung
17. Emotional and physical exhaustion caused by prolonged combat is called: [K]/ [CO2]
    c). Battle fatigue
18. The second stage in hierarchy of needs is: [K]/ [CO1]
    d). Security Need 19. What is important to personality development? A) genetics B) Environment & development. [An]/ [CO2]
    b). Both A & B
20. Which guna is associated with being virtuous, intelligent, and gentle? [K]/ [CO3]
    c). Sattva

Part B: Short Answer Questions.

(Answer any 10 questions. Each question carries 3 marks)

21. Write on the early perspective of Psychology by William James. [K] / [CO1]

William James was a pioneer of the early psychological perspective known as functionalism. This school of thought focused on how the mind allows humans and animals to adapt to their environments, rather than just identifying the mind's structure, William James Introduced the concept of "stream of consciousness."

22. Essential conditions of counselling. [K] / [CO2]

Key conditions include empathy, unconditional positive regard, and congruence (genuineness) as proposed by Carl Rogers.

23. Define 'competence' in the context of professional ethics for psychologists. [U] / [CO4]

Competence in the context of professional ethics for psychologists refers to the possession of the necessary knowledge, skills, and abilities to provide effective and responsible psychological services.

24. Briefly explain sociocultural perspective in psychology. [K] / [CO1]

The sociocultural perspective focuses on how social interaction and various aspects of culture (such as ethnicity, gender, and socioeconomic status) shape and influence human behavior and mental processes

25. What is psychology? [K] / [CO1]

Psychology is defined as the scientific study of behavior and mental processes. "Behavior" includes all outward or overt actions and reactions, while "mental processes" refers to internal activities such as thinking, feeling, and remembering

26. Give an account on Parapsychology. [U] / [CO1]

Parapsychology involves the study of extrasensory perception (ESP) or psi, which researchers define as unusual processes of information or energy transfer that are currently unexplained by known physical or biological mechanisms Includes telepathy, precognition, and psychokinesis that are not explained by standard scientific laws.

27. Write a note on the field of psycho oncology. [U] / [CO2]

Psycho-oncology is a multidisciplinary field that focuses on the psychological, social, and behavioral aspects of a patient's journey with cancer. Master / PhD in Psychology with practice in counseling & clinical psychology. supervised training in oncology and psychooncology, training managing bereavement, pain, self esteem building communication, family therapy, lifestyle modifications. help patient family, helathcare proviiders to maximise recovery by fostering communication, prevent relapse and mental physical social complications. deal with side effects of treatment.

28. Briefly describe the job role of industrial psychologist. [An] / [CO4]

Applies psychological principles to the workplace to increase productivity, improve employee selection, and enhance the overall quality of work life.

29. Analyze the significance of self-awareness in developing emotional intelligence and effective coping strategies. [E] / [CO4]

Self-awareness is the foundation of emotional intelligence and effective coping strategies. It enables individuals to identify and acknowledge their emotions, understand how their feelings influence their thoughts and behaviors, and anticipate and prepare for challenging situations. Self-awareness helps individuals develop emotional regulation, motivation, and empathy, ultimately enhancing their ability to navigate challenges and maintain mental well-being.

30. Explain the scope of Sports Psychology. [U] / [CO2]

The scope of sports psychology is broad and encompasses various aspects of mental health, performance enhancement, and the psychological well-being of athletes, coaches, and teams. Key areas included, performance enhancement, motivation and goal setting, stress and anxiety management, team dynamics, injury rehabilitation, etc. It’s not only about optimizing performance but also about promoting mental health, well-being, and overall personal development in athletes of all levels.

31. Briefly explain law of Pragnanz. [An] / [CO1]

A Gestalt principle stating that the brain perceives ambiguous or complex images in the simplest form possible.

32. Explain the key developmental issues in adolescent Psychology. [E] / [CO2]

Key developmental issues include changes in puberty, identity development, cognitive changes, social and emotionaql development during adolescence.

33. What is the role of a Clinical Psychologist (Consultant Level) in mental health care? [U] / [CO3]

A Consultant Clinical Psychologist is a highly experienced professional responsible for diagnosing, treating, and supervising mental health care. They handle complex psychological disorders, design specialized therapy plans, and oversee clinical teams. They also provide expert consultation, conduct psychological research, and train junior psychologists and mental health professionals. Additionally, they may work in hospitals, private clinics, academic institutions, and policy-making roles, ensuring high-quality mental health services.

Part C: Essay .Answer any two.Each question carries 10 Marks

34. Give a detailed account on the contributions of Sigmund Frued. [U] / [CO1]

Answer: Psychoanalysis, the structure of personality (Id, Ego, Superego), the concept of the unconscious, and the psychosexual stages of development. Freud was the founder of the psychodynamic perspective, which posits that many aspects of behavior stem from hidden forces within our personalities and unconscious mind. His key contributions include:Structure of Personality: He divided personality into three parts: the id (the primitive part focused on pleasure), the ego (the rational part that deals with reality), and the superego (the moral center or conscience)Psychosexual Stages: Freud theorized that personality develops through five stages of physical and emotional growth, known as psychosexual stages.Level of Consciousness-The Unconscious: He believed that the unconscious mind stores repressed conflicts and desires that can manifest in outward behavior

35. Describe the theoretical approaches to mental disorders and different types of classification of mental disorders. [U] / [CO2]

Biological Model: Focuses on medical causes such as genetic influences and hormone activity.Psychological Models: These include the psychodynamic (repressed conflicts), behavioral (learned reactions), and cognitive (illogical thinking patterns) perspectives. Biopsychosocial Model: Proposes that disorders arise from the interaction of biological, psychological, and social factors.sociocultural models of disorders

Classification: Disorders are primarily classified using the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM), which provides standardized criteria for diagnosing various psychological conditions or ICD-11.

36. Explain the concept of observation in psychology, including its advantages and disadvantages. [An] / [CO3]

Naturalistic Observation: Involves watching subjects in their everyday environments, offering the advantage of capturing authentic, natural behavior. A major disadvantage is the observer effect, where subjects act differently if they know they are being watched, as well as observer bias

Particpant Observation

Laboratory Observation: Occurs in a controlled environment, which allows for better use of specialized equipment but may lead to behavior that is less natural than what occurs in the real world

37. Explain in detail any two branches of psychology its scope ,nature and challenges. [U] / [CO4]

Clinical Psychology (diagnosis/treatment)- diagnose assess, classify, treat through therapy, collaborate with other proffessionals, train & rehabilitate , prevent and train. create public awareness - on mental health disorders. and Forensic Psychology (law and psychology).

Developmental Psychology: Studies how humans grow and change throughout the lifespan. Creating better understanding how and why people change and grow,Education and training for parents, teachers, doctors and other professionals. Promote healthy family, parental couple and social interactions. Cross-cultural understanding and to promote public mental health*Nature:* Scientific and multidisciplinary. Key developmental issues include changes in puberty, identity development, cognitive changes, social and emotionaql development during adolescence.

Experimental Psychology: Focuses on using scientific experiments to study basic processes like memory, sensation, and learning. Develop fundamental theories and principles in Psychology empirically, through lab or field experiments, Nature: Empirical and mathematical. Challenge: "Ecological validity," as laboratory experiments can sometimes be too artificial to reflect real-world behavior