MAHATMA GANDHI UNIVERSITY, KOTTAYAM MGU-UGP (HONOURS) REGULAR /IMPROVEMENT/REAPPEARANCE EXAMINATION NOVEMBER 2025

Discipline Specific Core Course (DSC) - MG1DSCHMC100 -INTRODUCTION TO HOSPITALITY OPERATIONS -I (FOOD & BEVERAGE)

Answer Key

1. Why is hygiene important in the hospitality industry?
Hygiene is essential to prevent contamination, ensure guest safety, and maintain the establishment's reputation.

2. When did the first modern restaurants emerge in France?
The first modern restaurants emerged in France in the 18th century, particularly around the 1760s.

3. What is the temperature of freezer storage?
Freezer storage temperature is typically maintained at –18°C or lower to keep food safe.

4. Why should kitchen equipment be cleaned immediately after use?
Kitchen equipment must be cleaned immediately to prevent bacterial growth and ensure smooth workflow.

5. Explain MAP?
Modified Atmosphere Packaging (MAP) is a food preservation technique that alters the air composition inside packaging to extend shelf life.

6. Describe the use of brown color chopping board?
A brown chopping board is used specifically for cutting cooked meat to avoid cross-contamination.

7. Why a Chef jacket is important in the kitchen?
A chef jacket protects against heat, spills, and maintains professional hygiene standards.

8. What does the term 'mise en place' mean?
Mise en place means 'everything in its place', referring to the preparation and organization of ingredients before cooking.

9. What are the major departments in a hotel?
Major departments include front office, housekeeping, food and beverage, kitchen, maintenance, and accounts.

10. How does the kitchen coordinate with the housekeeping department?
The kitchen coordinates with housekeeping for linen supply, cleanliness, pest control, and overall operational support.

11. Explain Mise en Place.
Mise en place refers to pre-preparation and arrangement of ingredients, tools, and equipment for efficient cooking.

12. How does working in a large hotel benefit a career in catering?
Working in a large hotel offers exposure to diverse cuisines, structured training, and clear career advancement opportunities.

13. What is a hotel?
A hotel is an establishment that provides lodging, food, and various services to guests for payment.

14. What are two benefits of an organization chart?
An organization chart clarifies hierarchy and helps ensure smooth communication and delegation.

15. Explain what up-selling means.
Up-selling means encouraging customers to purchase a higher-priced or upgraded product or service for added value.

16. Levels and skills of experience needed for food production industry.
The food production industry requires basic, supervisory, and managerial skill levels involving culinary techniques, leadership, and planning.

17. Points to follow for personal hygiene.
Personal hygiene includes regular bathing, clean uniforms, trimmed nails, proper handwashing, and avoiding contamination.

18. Contributions of Chef Carme and Chef Escoffier.
Chef Carme and Chef Escoffier revolutionized modern cuisine through kitchen brigade systems, menu planning, and culinary refinement.

19. Primary responsibilities of the Executive Chef in a 4-star hotel.
An Executive Chef oversees kitchen operations, menu planning, staff management, food quality, and cost control.

20. Key attributes a good caterer should possess.
A good caterer must have organization skills, creativity, customer service ability, and food safety knowledge.

21. Explain Welfare Catering.
Welfare catering provides food services for institutions like schools, hospitals, and workplaces focusing on nutrition and affordability.

22. Essay on attitude and behavior in the kitchen.
A proper kitchen attitude involves discipline, teamwork, professionalism, and maintaining safety and hygiene at all times.

23. History and growth of the hospitality industry.
The hospitality industry evolved from ancient inns to modern global hotels driven by travel, technology, and customer expectations.

24. Relationship between Travel, Tourism, and Catering Industry.
Travel and tourism drive demand for catering services, creating interdependent growth across hospitality sectors.