25900075 MGU- UGP (HONOURS) REGULAR EXAMINATION, MARCH 2025
SECOND SEMESTER
Multi-Disciplinary Courses (MDC) - MG2MDCENG102 - FUNDAMENTALS OF ADVERTISING AND PUBLIC RELATIONS

ANSWER SCHEME

Duration: 1.5 Hours Maximum Marks: 50

Part A - MCQ
Answer all questions. Each question carries 1 mark

1. a) Google [CO1]
2. b) Educating people about UPI payments [CO1]
3. c) Value words [CO2]
4. a) Controlling media organizations [CO3]
5. c) Acknowledged the problem and engaged with the media [CO3]

[1x5 = 5]

Part B - SHORT ANSWER
Answer any 6 questions. Each question carries 5 marks

6. Indirect Headlines in Advertising-Subtle and creative, often using wordplay, metaphors, or intriguing phrases-spark curiosity- engage the reader emotionally- building brand identity – needs to decode the message thus making it memorable Example: Apple: "Think Different" and Nike: "Just Do It" - News Headlines-Direct and informative-highlights product benefits, new features, or special offers-straightforward information-delivering a clear message or announcement –Easier to understand. Example: "New iPhone 15 – Faster, Brighter, Smarter", "50% Off All Summer Wear – This Month Only!" [CO1]

7. Feature-focused Sub-Headlines: Highlight specific attributes, technical details, or unique features of the product-often used for products with clearly defined technical advantages-Educate the consumer about the product's capabilities- Differentiate the product based on its unique selling points.-example: Sony Camera: "50.1MP full-frame sensor with 8K video recording." - Benefit-Oriented Sub-Headlines: Focus on the positive impact or value the product provides to the customer-Emphasize the "why" – how the product improves the user's life or solves a problem- user-centric. Example: Nike Running Shoes: "Run longer, recover faster – built for endurance." [CO1]

8. Mass Production of Printed Materials- rapid production of pamphlets, flyers, and posters, significantly reducing costs and increasing availability- Businesses/product/ads could now reach a larger audience quickly- Printed materials provided a consistency -ads appeared the same regardless of location –wider reach and literacy growth-creating fertile ground for early advertisements/commercial messages. [CO1]

9. Brochure Style: Simple tri-fold for basic information-Multipage booklet-Coffee-table style brochure for luxury products and premium services [CO2]

10. Emotional Advertising- focus on feeling-emotions-psychological triggers-objective to create emotional connection with brand- message style is in the form of relatable scenarios, storytelling-ideal for emotional decision makers-aims to create long-term brand loyalty-example Coca-Cola's "Open Happiness" - Rational Advertising – focus on facts and practical benefits-objective is to provide- convincing information to justify a purchase-message style is direct, informative , clear, gives analytical details , example Dell's "Powerful Performance, Every Time" [CO2]

11. Trademarks create a unique brand identity- products instantly recognizable-builds credibility and trust - Clearly differentiates products from competitors- Simplifies marketing by brand familiarity -reduce the extensive product explanations.-Facilitates international brand recognition across borders-Helps combat counterfeit products [CO2]

12. Advertising Standards Council of India (ASCI)
Truthfulness and Accuracy: claim must be truthful, not misleading - based on scientific evidence. Evaluation: advertiser must provide robust clinical data proving that the product actually boosts immunity as stated - data should come from well-designed, peer-reviewed studies conducted by credible institutions.
Health and safety: Health claims should be supported by reliable scientific data. Evaluation: The study supporting the immunity-boosting claim must be independently verified and published in a reputable journal, not just based on internal or unpublished research peer-reviewed if presented as a medical or scientific fact.
Terms like "clinically proven" must not be used lightly or without substantial scientific evidence-Evaluation: If the claim exaggerates the product's effects without clear evidence, it can be considered misleading. The term "clinically proven" should reflect rigorous scientific testing, not just preliminary findings.
For this immunity-boosting claim to be ASCI-compliant, it must be backed by substantial, peer-reviewed clinical evidence, avoid exaggeration, and provide a clear basis for the "clinically proven" statement. If the ad lacks this level of support, it would likely be flagged for misleading consumers. [CO2]

13. PR-Focuses on building and maintaining a positive image and strong relationships between an organization and its various stakeholders.-Advertising-Primarily focused on promoting specific products or services- PR, Uses storytelling, media relations, press releases, events, and social media to create a positive perception over time.-Advertising: Relies on direct, persuasive messages designed to capture attention quickly -PR- Less control over the final message- Advertising- Complete control over the message, timing, and placement,-PR-Typically seen as more credible,-Advertising-often viewed with skepticism. [CO3]

14. Corporate videos : Helps communicate brand values, mission, and history- in crisis management : Quickly address issues and control the narrative – for internal communication: strengthen company culture and employee engagement- improve media relations by providing engaging content for journalists and media outlets- improve Investor relations by showcasing communicate financial performance and growth plans-corporate videos showcase authentic stories and testimonials, helps build trust and credibility. [CO3]

[5x6 = 30]

Part C - ESSAY
Answer any 1 question. Each question carries 15 marks

15. Clear and Compelling Message Example: Amul's "Utterly Butterly Delicious" - Emotional Connection : Appeals to the audience's emotions, building brand loyalty: Tanishq's ads celebrating real-life relationships- Strong Brand Identity - Consistent use of logos, colors, and tone to reinforce brand identity Eg: Fevicol - Target Audience Focus : Tailored to the specific needs Eg: BYJU's- Call to Action (CTA) : Encourages immediate action Eg: Swiggy's "What's Your Order?" - Creativity and Innovation : Zomato's quirky, real-time social media ads - Consistency Across Platforms Authenticity and Credibility :Eg: Tata Tea's "Jaago Re" campaign promoting social awakening -Measurable Results -Clearly defined goals and metrics for evaluating success. Eg: Paytm's QR code campaign Long-Term Impact and Recall Surf Excel's "Daag Acche Hain", 'Only Vimal'. [CO1]

16. Campaign Objective: Build brand awareness-Drive foot traffic to the store-Establish a unique brand identity
Media Type 1: Social Media (Instagram and Facebook): High reach, precise targeting, and strong visual impact. Ideal for fashion brands.
Regular posts with high-quality images showcasing new collections-Short, trendy Reels and Stories to highlight daily arrival -Paid ads targeting fashion-conscious users within the city-influencer collaborations for extended reach.
Media Type 2: Outdoor Advertising (Billboards/Hoardings/Display Panel and Transit Ads): High visibility and constant exposure to daily commuters. Perfect for creating local brand awareness.
Eye-catching billboards near popular shopping areas and main roads-Bus stop posters and metro ads with store directions and grand opening announcements.-Clear, bold visuals with the brand logo, tagline, and store address-
Media Type 3: Local Radio and Podcast Sponsorships
Cost-effective, local reach, and high engagement during commuting hours-Sponsored segments and jingles on popular local radio stations-Special on-air promotions and discount code giveaways-Sponsorships on fashion and lifestyle podcasts to reach trend-savvy listeners. [CO2]

17. Research provides the factual basis for crafting a targeted PR strategy-Ensures campaigns are data-driven and aligned with business goals- Understanding the Target Audience- Setting Measurable Objectives -Defines clear, achievable goals (e.g., brand awareness, reputation management)-Aligns PR efforts with broader organizational priorities- -Informs the tone, style, and content of the campaign-Ensures messages are relevant and impactful-Media Selection and Outreach -Helps identify the most effective channels for reaching the target audience.-Increases the chances of earned media coverage-Crisis Preparedness and Risk Assessment: Identifies potential risks and prepares crisis communication plans-Protects brand reputation during sensitive situations- Measuring Campaign Effectiveness: Establishes benchmarks for evaluating success.-facilitates ongoing improvement through post-campaign analysis - * Setting objectives will provide: clear direction-focus-metrics for success. Audience identification: ensures messages are relevant and impactful-reducing waste and improving ROI (Return of Investment) [CO3]

[15x1 = 15]