MAHATMA GANDHI UNIVERSITY, KOTTAYAM
MGU-UGP (HONOURS) Regular EXAMINATION October 2025
Third SEMESTER
Value Addition Course (VAC) - MG3VACHMC200 - HOSPITALITY ETIQUETTES

ANSWER KEY
(2024 ADMISSION ONWARDS)

Question	Taxonomy	CO	Ans key
1. List three elements of professional attire for female employees.	K	CO1	Formal dress, neat hair, minimal jewellery
2. Example of neatness in appearance contributing to professionalism.	A	CO1	Positive impression, hygiene, respect
3. Why is a well-fitting uniform important for male staff?	U	CO1	Comfort, professionalism, confidence
4. How professionalism can lead to career advancement?	A	CO4	Promotions, recognition, trust
5. Etiquette rule for fine dining.	A	CO1, CO4	Napkin use, cutlery placement, silent mobile
6. Two non-verbal cues indicating active listening.	K	CO2, CO3	Eye contact, nodding
7. Cell phone etiquette during meetings.	U	CO2	Silent mode, avoid distractions, emergency use only
8. Clear articulation's contribution to communication etiquette.	U	CO2, CO4	Clarity, understanding, respect
9. Importance of netiquette for professional credibility.	U	CO2, CO4	Reputation, respect, effective communication
10. Example of showing patience to a difficult customer.	A	CO2, CO4	Calm responses, listening, empathy
11. Behavior to avoid concerning gossip in workplace.	K	CO3, CO4	Spreading rumors, negative talk
12. Culture where direct eye contact is impolite.	K	CO3, CO4	Japan, Korea, some Middle Eastern cultures
13. Effect of refusing a gift in certain cultures.	An	CO3, CO4	Offense, misunderstanding, cultural sensitivity

Question	Taxonomy	CO	Ans key
14. Main difference between low-context and high-context communication.	K	CO3, CO4	Explicit vs. implicit, directness
15. Importance of international greetings for first impressions.	U	CO3, CO4	Respect, positive start, cultural awareness
Short Essay Questions
16. Guidelines for grooming/hygiene for restaurant employees.	C	CO1, CO4	Clean uniform, trimmed nails, use of deodorant, hair tied/back, minimal jewelry, shoes polished, fresh breath, regular handwashing, maintain personal hygiene standards, no strong perfumes, presentable appearance, adherence to dress code.
17. Training exercise for positive non-verbal cues.	C	CO2, CO4	Role play scenarios, observation and feedback sessions, mirror exercises, group practice, video recording for review, training on eye contact, posture, facial expressions, simulation of customer interactions, peer evaluation.
18. Impact of tone/articulation on caller's perception.	E	CO2	Conveys professionalism, trust, and clarity; good tone creates a positive impression, builds confidence in service, reduces misunderstandings, increases caller satisfaction, improves brand image, friendly and clear articulation leads to better outcomes.
19. Impact of informal language/acronyms in emails.	E	CO2, CO4	Leads to misunderstandings, appears unprofessional, recipient may feel disrespected, lowers credibility, increases risk of errors, ambiguity, miscommunication, creates barrier in formal workplace, reduces overall effectiveness.
20. Pace of dining: Italian vs North American cultures.	U	CO2, CO4	Italian: Leisurely, social interaction, emphasis on experience, multiple courses, family time valued. North American: Quick, efficiency-focused, single course, fast service, time-saving culture. Difference: Cultural value for dining experience vs efficiency.
21. Scenario of body language misinterpretation.	An	CO3, CO4	Misunderstanding due to gestures or posture, cultural differences affect perception (e.g., direct eye contact, hand signs), negative impression, confusion, need for clarification, awareness about non-verbal cues, training required.
ESSAY QUESTIONS
22. Induction program for hospitality employees (practical etiquette application, assessment).	C	CO1	Orientation sessions, demonstration of etiquette, hands-on practice, role plays, use of checklists, quizzes on protocols, feedback from trainers, job shadowing, group activities, regular assessment and review, skill certification.

Question	Taxonomy	CO	Ans key
23. Etiquette for transferring a call; warm transfer definition.	An	CO2, CO3	Inform caller about transfer, explain next steps, stay on line until transfer is complete (“warm transfer”), introduce caller to new person, ensure smooth handover, avoid abrupt disconnect, maintain professionalism, enhance customer experience.
24. Onboarding checklist & training for corporate etiquette.	C	CO3, CO4	Greetings protocol, dress code guidelines, punctuality, professional email etiquette, phone manners, team communication, workplace conduct, social media policy, respect for diversity, confidentiality, reporting procedures, continuous learning opportunities.