Individuals can fulfill their social responsibility through charity work (donating time, money, and resources), volunteer work, supporting key issues (political, environmental, social), and simply acting with integrity and honesty. Another way to define social responsibility is for people to act humanely.Sport has a responsibility to treat all humans equally. And because of Sport's unique, global visibility that responsibility is further amplified. History has shown that Sport has the power to impact entire societies. It can help countries find new self-esteem through success in Sports.

21 "Is a leader to be empathetic" write your view on the statement?
Yes, a leader should be empathetic; empathy is considered a crucial quality for effective leadership as it allows leaders to understand and connect with their team members on a deeper level, fostering trust, improving communication, and creating a positive work environment by considering their needs and perspectives.Empathetic leadership means having the ability to understand the needs of others, and being aware of their feelings and thoughts.

22 Differentiate theory X from theory Y?

Douglas McGregor developed these theories in the 1960s. The appropriate leadership style depends on several factors, including the organization's structure, the type of work, and the skill level of employees.Theory X is based on the assumptions that employees don't really want to work, lack ambition, only work to collect a paycheck, and need constant supervision. Theory Y is based on the assumptions that employees want to work, want to take responsibility, and do not need much supervision.
